

AUTHOR SCHOOL VISIT by Ginjer L. Clarke

Ginjer L. Clarke loves to learn about weird animals! She writes fun, fact-filled nonfiction science readers about wild, wonderful animals, especially extreme or unusual animals, that make learning about nature entertaining and engaging. Her books have sold a combined total of more than 2 million copies worldwide since 2000 and have been on the Publisher's Weekly list of top 100 best-selling children's books. She was raised in Baltimore, is a graduate of James Madison University, and now lives in Richmond, with her husband, young son, and some silly-looking pets.
