

What Do Educators Say?

"We truly appreciate the time and effort you spent presenting such an entertaining and informative program for our students. Your part in our Reading Night definitely made it a success! Our students and staff are still talking about what a terrific presentation it was. We hope our students will be inspired to continue their writing endeavors and even become future authors! Many thanks for your great work with our children."

—With sincerest gratitude,
Lightfoot Elementary School Reading Committee

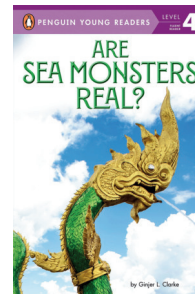

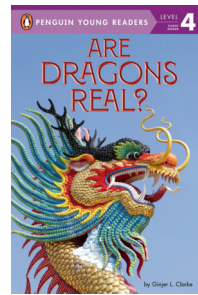

"Thank you so much for your presentation. You were awesome! Your face-to-face contact with these children has made a big impact on their lives. From your games with kindergartners to your writing activity with fourth graders, you connected so well to their abilities. Your visit was a momentous occasion that these children will never forget."

—Diane Langston, Librarian
Amelia County Elementary

"Ginjer fascinated our children at every level, K-5, with her descriptions of animals, her story of being an author, and some read-alouds that kept them hooked. I particularly liked the way she adapted each presentation to the grade level. The 5th graders were enthralled and even had a chance to do some writing themselves! Every presentation ended just early enough for Q&A, which is so important to address and affirm the students' own curiosity. Thanks for the great time and the fresh appreciation you gave us of our wonderful animal kingdom."

—Susan Holt, Reading Specialist
JB Watkins Elementary

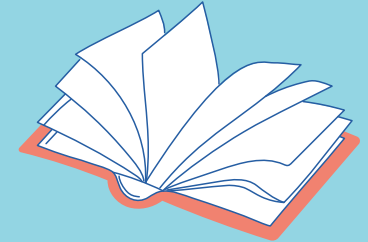

"Ginjer's programs are educational and entertaining. They're fun and funny without being fluff."

"I have a passion for teaching kids to become readers, to become comfortable with a book, not daunted. Books shouldn't be daunting; they should be funny, exciting, and wonderful. Learning to be a reader gives a terrific advantage." —Roald Dahl

Ginjer L. Clarke

Nonfiction Science
Children's Author
& Presenter

Fun, fact-filled books about weird, wonderful stuff

www.ginjerclarkebooks.com

   @ginjerclarkebooks

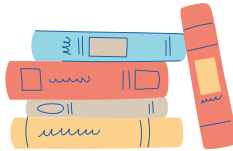

About Ginjer

Ginjer Clarke researches and writes fun, fact-filled nonfiction books about weird, wonderful stuff. Her books (40 so far and counting!) have sold a total of more than 4 million copies worldwide. She lives in Richmond, VA, and she is an experienced, engaging presenter who provides age-appropriate talks for grades K through 6.

About Visits

Ginjer has visited more than 300 schools across the mid-Atlantic over the past 20 years, including many repeat visits. She has a passion for connecting with all students, especially reluctant readers, to promote literacy, curiosity, and critical thinking through an interactive approach.

Program Types

General programs include how Ginjer got started writing and how a book gets made, an intro to the research and revision processes, writing exercises for older grades, lively readings, and Q&A.

Ginjer provides a wide variety of program types, including:

Large assembly presentations

Young Authors' Club workshops

Family Literacy Night programs

Classroom writing classes

Topic-specific lessons

Virtual author Q&A

Teacher inservices

Conference sessions

Bookfair/festival talks

www.ginjerclarkebooks.com

Program Rates

Ginjer provides up to four in-person presentations per day. Group sizes should be limited to approximately 200 students per session to keep the presentations intimate and interactive.

For schools within 100 miles of Richmond, VA, the fee is $300 per session. Up to 200 miles is $400 per session plus overnight accommodation. Presentations beyond that distance are $500 per session plus travel and accommodation. Virtual visits are $200 per session.

School visits include:

- Free set of signed books
- Planning materials packet
- 40% discount from publisher
- Book signing time & bookmarks

